THE SALVATION ARMY.

The proposed withdrawal of the Salvation Army from Connelleville is generally regretted. The News comments upon it in the following caustic manner:

"It is hardly to the credit of the city that the Salvation Army has found it necessary to withdraw its corps from this field. Connelleville, it is to be judged by daily and nightly street scenes, would appear to be most fertile ground for the endeavors of just such an agency as the Salvation Army. But Captain Harrison, in charge here for more than a year, has been ordered from Connelleville to McKeesport, and the word has gone forth that there will be no other workers permanently stationed here. And one of the most humiliating features of the transaction is that we are to be served in the future by Tolietown. That should at least have the effect of stirring up some local pride. We may stand for the county seat providing us with our law and our politics, but with our religion, never."

The withdrawal of the Salvation Army as we understand it is due to the refusal of the Protestant churches to lend it any further support in its charity work, this refusal having been attributed to the necessity of raising $5,000 to pay a coming evangelist. We do not know how much support comes to the Salvation Army outside of the Protestant churches, but we would think it was considerable, or that it might be made so with a proper effort.

Nevertheless, while we wonder whether the local officers have been hasty in their action, we heartily endorse all our esteemed contemporary has said concerning the Salvation Army.

WHERE THE LAW CHANGES.

It is a well established principle of mining law that an operator cannot drain his water upon his neighbor, but must pump it out and deliver it upon the surface.

It is also becoming a more serious question whether he shall be permitted to drain it into the running streams of the state. The question which has been held in abeyance until such time as the streams are freed from the pollution of municipal sewage. It would be ridiculous to burden our coal and coke operators with requirements for taking care of their mine water when the towns and cities are polluting the streams in the manner mentioned.

The mine operators are working on the problem of purifying at a profit their sulphate water before passing it on to its natural channels. While the success of the process has yet to be demonstrated, it is a matter of reasonable hope that enough sulphate and other valuable by-products may be extracted from the water to pay the cost of purification.

In the meantime, however, it is interesting to note that the law, which now requires mine water to follow its natural surface drainage, refuses to permit it to follow such underground course even when it breaks from one set of workings into another.

THE GLASS TARIFF.

The destruction of the Belgian glass industry has resulted in a large American demand and an increased domestic price.

If the European war had not occurred, and the Belgian factories had been in full operation shipping glass to this country under the low schedule of the Democratic tariff bill, this condition would have been reversed. American glass factories would have been running partial down on reduced wages and selling at cut prices.

The European war saved the face of the Democratic tariff, but it will not save the neck of the Democratic party. The people understand and the people rule.

Senator Crow has become a Connelleville manufacturer as well as a Wharton farmer. He believes in diversified industry. He always did believe in industry. He was raised that way.

The bars have it on the banks today.

The laundry interest has decided to postpone hitting up the high cost of living.

Zero weather is getting ready to march out of the West.

The review of local events in Connelleville for 1915 reminds us that the new City Council should about this time provide properly for the children's playground it has acquired.

That Connelleville is a railroad center is attested by B. & O. men and C. & O. money, too.

The J. V. Thompson Coal Combine is rolling on.

The Courier's chronology for 1915 is a good thing to preserve.

Connellsville will, it is rumored, get another good place in the court house without having made any time about it.

Seven states went dry with the advent of the New Year. The cause of Prohibition goes marching on without aid or consent of the Prohibition party.

DEMOCRATS PLAN
A TARIFF LAW TO FOIL REPUBLICANS

Propose an Anti-Dumping Measure to Cover Errors of Underwood Bill.

WILL PLACATE OLD LINERS

Administration Officials Now Working on Measure by Which They Hope to Build a Tariff Wall Without Committing Party to Protective Policy.

Special to The Courier.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 1.—The plans which the Democrats are said to be in mind are carried out, according to information gathered here today in official quarters, the Democratic party will go before the country in the next campaign with the assertion that they have given the country effective protection to American industries. Their scheme, it is said, is to lift the protective theory into the Democratic party but disguised in such a manner that it will not offend the feelings of those members of the party who would hold up their hands in holy horror at anything which on the surface appeared like a protective system for American industry.

These plans call for an anti-dumping bill which is being prepared. If it is approved by President Wilson, who is said to be studying the matter it will be presented to Congress in the form of a bill to prevent the dumping into American markets after the war of cheap foreign products which would compete with the manufacturing interests of this country to their probable destruction.

In case a bill of this sort can be passed, the Democrats will claim, it is pointed out by those familiar with the situation, that they have not abandoned their principles, but that the legislation passed by them affords to American manufacturers as good a protection as any they ever had. The anti-dumping bill would be virtually a protective tariff in disguise, according to a high authority today.

Secretary Redfield of the Department of Commerce, has been discussing the proposition and working upon the proposed measure for some time; and President Wilson, it is said, probably will reach a decision on the matter soon following conference with Secretary Redfield and with Democratic leaders of the Senate and House as to the terms of the bill.

All the bills which have been drawn up for consideration for consideration prohibit the selling in the United States of articles of foreign manufacture and production at prices less than the fair wholesale market price in the country of manufacture or origin. The sale of such articles in this country at unfair prices is to be considered by the proper tribunals as prima facie evidence of intent to injure or destroy the business of a manufacturer or producer of such article in the United States.

One of the bills which has been drawn by the Federal Trade Commission and which is now before Secretary Redfield states the commission's primary purpose is to prevent the alleged unfair dumping methods of competition by broadening the scope of one section of the act under which the commission was created and directing collectors of customs to report to the commission all violations of the act. The section of the act referred to gives the Federal Trade Commission authority to declare unlawful unfair methods of competition in commerce in the United States, but does not give the commission authority to prevent unfair methods of foreign competitors against American business and industry. The only authority in the present act touching on foreign commerce is that given to the commission to investigate, from time to time, trade conditions in and with foreign countries where the trade of the United States may be affected and to report to Congress thereon, with such recommendations as may be deemed necessary.

ORE SALES

For 1916 Delivery Being Made in Recent Months.

A record-breaking sales movement in eastern iron ores for 1916 delivery, has been practically completed and it is estimated that these transactions call for a total of between 1,500,000 and 2,000,000 tons. This, by far, is the heaviest aggregate of ore business ever closed for a single year in the eastern market, says the Iron Trade Review.

One mining company is preparing for the largest year in their history during 1916. The new season's prices are on the basis of 84 to 90 cents per unit, delivered eastern Pennsylvania, for furnace material and 34 to 40 for the mines for lump. Sellers of foreign ores will see small opportunity to compete with the domestic "miners" in the eastern market, because of the high ocean freights.

A slight change in quotations has been made by reducing the price of ingot old range Bessemer $1.45 and old range non-Bessemer $3.70, instead of $1.50 and $3.75, respectively, as quoted at the opening of the market.

While large quantities of the ore were sold at $4.50 and $3.75, some sales were made at 5 cents less and others, generally have agreed to conform to the lower prices.

Locomotives for Russia.

The H. K. Porter Company, Pittsburgh, has received an order from the Russian government for 20 locomotives, in addition to an order for 35 locomotives taken some time ago.

Oliver May Found Dead.

Charles C. Grooms, 53 years old, a purser at Oliver No. 1 for several years, was found dead in bed, Thursday. Heart failure was the cause of his sudden death.

New By-Product Plant.

The American Steel & Wire Company will build a by-product plant at its Newburg works.

A Three-Cornered Snarl

The Optimist.

By GEORGE FITCH.
Author of "At Good Old Slaw."

An optimist is a man who would celebrate the anniversary of the day on which his leg was broken, because the automobile didn't spoil his clothes when it ran over him.

The optimist was only the bright side of things. Every dark cloud to him has a silver lining and is perpetually inside out. There is no such thing as a misfortune to the optimist. He has torn the misfortune piece out of his lexicon, and has used for a flashlight. If he is poor, he is glad because he will enjoy so much more being rich after next. If he is sick, he is glad because he will enjoy so much more being healthy after next. If he is in a most suspicious condition because he is in a most suspicious condition, he is glad because he will enjoy so much more being in a most suspicious condition after next. If he is in a most suspicious condition because he is in a most suspicious condition, he is glad because he will enjoy so much more being in a most suspicious condition after next.

The optimist only sees the bright side of things.

will buy $100 worth of stock in a hole in the ground with traces of brass filices in it and will pay assessments for forty years, resulting in his wheelbarrow every month in order to be ready when the dividend is declared. He will buy a block of stock in a perpetual motion company and will hold onto it ever after some other sucker has offered to cart it away free of charge.

These optimists are profitable, but not always to the optimist. However, he is always happy. Once an optimist was lunched for home standing out in the rain and just before they kicked the barrel out from under him, he was asked if he had any last words. Looking up at the clouds he murmured: "You couldn't have picked out a spot with a sliver view."

CAR ORDERS.

Are Expected to be More Liberal Soon After Turn of New Year.

Although the railroads have released very few orders for rolling stock in the last month, a large number of cars are under negotiation, and in turn the car builders are endeavoring to secure protection on a large amount of steel, including bars, pipes and shapes as well as axles and wheels.

It is expected that some liberal orders will be placed, soon after the turn of the year. It seems doubtful, however, to secure options on any large tonnages of steel under present conditions.

After Christmas Bargains A
Genuine Clean Up

We find after Christmas we have a number of odds and ends in Christmas novelties, and during this week, or until New Year's Day, we are closing them out at special reduced prices. It is often the custom to give presents on New Year's day, and here is the opportunity for people who have delayed their shopping. We have some odds and ends in toys; we have numerous broken lines in men's and women's raiment, and it is our intention to close them all out. It is a clearance sale of Holiday goods.

During the first week in January we are going to start general clearance sales in every one of our stores. It will be a real clean-up; a genuine cleaning up of all odds and ends. It will affect every department in each of our sixty-three stores. Watch the announcements; attend the sales. Take advantage of this great opportunity to supply yourself with winter clothing, winter shoes, all sorts of dry goods and furnishings; even the furniture departments are offering bargains—every department. There are some special lines in the grocery department, and in the provision department. It is a great chance to make money. All goods first class, guaranteed to be entirely satisfactory. If not so, your money will be refunded.

Welcome 1916

Especially welcome for the rainbow of promise you bring—marking the passing of the industrial clouds.

And with business getting better each day it is high time for all of us to plan ahead.

There is a slang phrase to the effect that "the best time to go is when the going is good."

And when did it look better?

When did the outlook promise better returns for well directed effort—for newspaper advertising especially?

B. & O. EXPECTS A GOOD RUN IN THE REGION FOR TODAY

Despite Holiday a 75 Per Cent Distribution of Cars is Made.

SMALLER PLANTS ARE IDLE

Most of Them Took No Chances of Being Shipped and Ordered No Cars; Larger Concerns Will Operate; Other News of the Rail.

The coke region will not stop work today in spite of this being a holiday. The number of cars given out by the Baltimore & Ohio signifies the conditions. The coke region for coal coke is so great that operators cannot afford to stop. The Baltimore & Ohio has given out cars to about 75 per cent of the allotment today.

New Year's Day is generally a holiday for miners and the coal companies are having a hard time to get them to work. The coke region in most of the mines will be full, however.

The big operators are the ones that are working today. The small mines or the mines that are working short-handed are taking no risks of being penalized for keeping cars over-time, however, and will take chances on being able to get them loaded. As a safety first move no cars for today have been ordered at all, that is, by these small mines. In case sufficient cars all week and with the layoff on the part of a few mines again today there is a chance for getting a good start next week.

HELP ON THE ROADS. The Baltimore & Ohio did a good share in sending 1915 out and bringing 1916 in last night, with all the engine whistles going and the bells ringing. Employees in the roundhouse tied down the whistles on the engine and turned on the air for the bells. The din about the yards was heard all over the city. The roundhouse whistle was not to be left out either and the firemen in the roundhouse turned it on, to increase the noise. This night employees celebrate New Year's night more than all the rest of the night put together.

NO PASSENGERS KILLED. The Pennsylvania railroad system, whose tracks cover 26,000 miles of the United States, has completed a second year without killing a single passenger out of 26,572,111 that traveled over the road during that time. The record for the two years means that 2,400,000 trains were safely operated while at the same time no more than five freight trains were being derailed.

The lines east of Pittsburgh today completed their eighth year without a fatality to one of the 325,000,000 people carried during that period. In five of the past eight years not one of the 4,000,000 trains was killed in a train accident.

A New Year's greeting has been sent out to all the employees of the Pennsylvania railroad congratulating them on the record in handling trains that has been made.

ECONOMY IN FORCE. The Baltimore & Ohio railroad is economizing by using over again the good lumber that is being taken from the "graveyard" near Fayette. Eye beams and strengthening beams have been removed from the old cars and instead of being burned, have been loaded up and shipped to Connelville. In the yards the beams are now being used in the construction of the new turntable and also on the tip truck. The beams are made of good wood and there is lots of wear in them yet. An old car that needs strengthening is usually mended with one of these beams.

BIG FREIGHT REVENUE. A significant feature of the earnings of the Western Maryland railroad for November is the freight revenue which amounted to $744,831.34. This is an increase of $215,023.20, while the passenger earnings from the same period decreased $2,546.06. The gross revenue for the month showed an increase of $212,474.62 over the same month in 1914. The net was $278,613.37, an increase of $17,668.24.

COMPENSATION IS REJECTED. The Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Company today notified its employees of the rejection of the Pennsylvania Workmen's Compensation act. The notice states that the "provisions of the act do not apply to the contract of employment between you and it and that it refuses to pay the compensation provided therein for injury to you or for your death." The notice is signed by C. W. Galloway, general manager. It is presumed that the company prefers to handle its own losses through its own insurance department.

NEW LIVESTOCK RULES. Important changes in the Rules governing the shipping of livestock will be inaugurated by the railroads east of the Mississippi and Ohio rivers today. The new changes are made necessary under the requirements of the Cattle Act.

Just as under the Cattle Act the railroads are compelled to have the passengers declare the value of all baggage checked, so in the case of livestock the shipper must declare the value on his waybill, and the rates will be on a sliding scale, according to the valuation given. The valuation governs the limit of liability of the railroad.

Under the new regulations the maximum liability assumed by the railroads at the lowest rate is $250 for a horse, $150 for hogs and sheep and $100 for a cow, $25 for a sheep or lamb and goat. A higher valuation than these is given the rate will be increased five per cent for every five per cent, or less increase in valuation. At various points on its lines, the Pennsylvania railroad is holding meetings of the livestock dealers to acquaint them with the new regulations.

HEADLIGHT FLASHES. James McManus of South Connelville, a night supply boy of the Baltimore & Ohio at the roundhouse, in back at work again after being off some time with a cut foot. While crossing the yards one night McManus ran a brakeloose pin into his foot.

James T. Hays, Norbert Seidrist, and Daniel Wegner, three veteran shopmen of the Pennsylvania railroad at Altoona, will go on the retired list today.

Mail trucks filled with catalogues by a single Pittsburgh firm required 15 cars to deliver them to distributing stations.

Owing to the early paying of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad employees in December the next pay day will not come around until about January 15. This will probably increase the payroll a great deal as all the men have been working full-time and there will be a longer period to pay for.

L. C. Stevens, assistant superintendent of the Monaca division at Grafton, W. Va., is appointed superintendent of the Newark division, which will be the general manager of the staff at Baltimore will succeed him. Stevens succeeds J. H. Jackson, who has been transferred to the Chicago division.

Efforts are being made by the Baltimore & Ohio officials at Baltimore to improve the working conditions in the yards there. The tracks are being repaired and general repairs are being made all over the yards. Fuel crews are working at the roundhouse and car shops. Cases of grip are prevalent among the men on account of the wet surface between the tracks.

INTERMEDIATES OPEN SEASON WITH VICTORY. The Connellsville Intermediates, formerly the Y. M. C. A. Juniors, played their first game of basketball this season with the Connellsville Y. M. C. A. at Connellsville last evening, winning by a score of 31-0. The game was played on the new Y. M. C. A. floor. If a ball can be secured here by the local boys, Connellsville will play a return game.

The two teams averaged about the same weight and the A. A. U. rules, which were used instead of the N. Y. A. U. rules, caused both teams to be confused. The Connellsville team, however, played under A. A. U. rules only on a few occasions. Numerous fouls were called on both sides during the game, but neither team had a man who could toss fouls with accuracy.

The game was fast at times. Team play is necessary with the new rules and both sides showed up well in carrying the ball down the floor. Most of the time, however, the ball was in play in the Connellsville end and the locals also made more tries for baskets than Connellsville. The jumping of Engleka was a little better than that of Camlin or Kennell. He would get the tip offener, giving the Connellsville a chance of working out their signals.

Connellsville made four baskets during the entire game and these were made by one man, Kessler, the tallest fellow on the floor, got two. Kennell and Newman and the others in the Connellsville lineup. Engleka and Engleka tied, each getting six baskets. Miller also dropped three in. At the end of the game, Engleka and Newman were playing guard, was pushed into the brick wall and laid out but he went back into the game. P. H. Wall of Connellsville acted as referee, and his decisions were so fair that neither side could dispute them. Wall called all bad fouls but because the boys did not know the new rules well, at some minor ones he called otherwise the game would probably have been a foul shooting match. Wall will soon take a job as referee in the West Penn league, where he is an athlete and knows all the sporting games well, especially basketball.

The lineup: SCOTTSVILLE—16, Miller; 15, Jones; 14, Kessler; 13, Newman; 12, Engleka; 11, Galloway; 10, Newman; 9, Goodman; 8, Galloway; 7, Field; 6, Newman; 5, Engleka; 4, Kessler; 3, Newman; 2, out of 10, Jones; 1 out of 17, Engleka; 2 out of 10, Kennell; 1 out of 3, Camlin; 1 out of 3, reference; Wall, timer; Buttermore, scorer; Miller, referee.

I. O. O. F. W. M. J. KINLEY LODGE No. 126. All members are requested to meet tomorrow at 1:30 P. M. at Temple to attend the funeral service of Brother T. Capel, Ninth Street, West Side.

MEN!—Don't Start Off the New Year Without That New SUIT and OVERCOAT

IN THESE DAYS OF PROSPERITY, no man can afford to be poorly clothed. It's poor economy at any time. The man who makes good, invariably looks the part. "Like Begets Like." A prosperous appearance creates confidence. Confidence brings success. From a business viewpoint alone, Wright-Metzler clothes are gilt-edged investments.

$10 to $20

—IS a price range for SUITS and OVERCOATS that should appeal to every man. No man should pay less; no man need pay more for a smart, serviceable model just to his liking. Made from thoroughly reliable all-wool fabrics and in the season's best colors. The better garments are designed and tailored by such famous clothes experts as Society Brand, Michaels-Stern, and Hirsch-Wickwire. We could write a whole page about the merits of these clothes, but these names on a label speak volumes for themselves.

$15 Is Our Feature Price

—And it is no overstatement when we say you never saw finer values for the money. Good style, good service, good tailoring—all go hand in hand. Well worth the very few minutes it takes to look them over.

Headlight Overalls Will Be $1.10

—After January first, the present price $1.00. Manufacturers tell us it is very doubtful whether there will be any blue overalls at all in a few more months because of the lack of dye. It would be a good plan to buy a year's supply before the advance takes effect.

Best Corduroy Pants In Town

Made of the best grade of soft, comfortable material that gives the very best of service. A big showing to choose from in both light and dark shades. Prices range $1.50 to $2.50.

The Enger "Twin Six"

The following announcement in regard to the handling of the ENGER MOTOR CARS in New York City is taken from the AUTOMOBILE TOPICS for December (15th, 1915):

"Giving ENGER TWELVE-CYLINDER cars prominent representation in the very heart of New York's automobile district, the Flat Motor Sales Company, 1774 Broadway, has taken the New York City Agency for the ENGER line."

The Flat Motor Sales Company is the Company handling the New York sales for Flat cars made in Turin, Italy, and in Poughkeepsie, N. Y. It has a distinctly fashionable trade, and among its customers it numbers many of New York's wealthiest and most prominent people.

"THE ENGER 'TWIN SIX' will therefore be staged in the beautiful show rooms at Broadway and 67th Street in companionship with the most expensive types of foreign and American flats."

The ENGER "TWIN SIX" is the most remarkable value on the motor market today. Graceful, luxurious, roomy, sturdy and complete as a $9,000.00 car it comes to the buyer at only $1,095.
